Bills of sale usually include the identity of the buyer and seller, a description of the item or items being sold, and the terms of the transaction. A bill of sale may be required for certain registration processes. Table of Contents Forms (4) Boat Bill of Sale - Use this document to prove the legal sale of a vessel/boat. For the seller, a Bill of Sale provides proof that title to the vehicle has been legally transferred. For the buyer, the Bill of Sale documents the purchase price of the vehicle for sales tax purposes. The Utah Bill of Sale form should contain:- Name and address of the seller. - Name, address and signature of the buyer. - Complete vehicle description, including the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN). - Description of trade-in, if any. - Purchase price of the vehicle. - Trade-in allowance, if applicable. - Net purchase price. The Bill of Sale can be handwritten or typed/printed, but it should be in ink, not pencil. You can use the TC-843, Utah Bill of Sale provided by the Utah DMV. When you sell your vehicle:- Remove your license plates from the vehicle. If you do not, you may be liable for any parking or traffic violations occurring while your plates remain on the car. - Give the new owner the signed title, current registration certificate, and current safety and emission certificates. The new owner may obtain a temporary permit from any Motor Vehicle office by presenting the signed title, proof of insurance, and picture identification and paying all applicable fees. - Notify the Division of Motor Vehicles in writing that your vehicle has been sold. The notification must include the vehicle year, make, plate or vehicle identification number and the owner's signature. This notification can be sent by fax or mail. Utah law requires a title within 48 hours of the transaction, a common-sense approach is to obtain a title at the time of sale, or wait to pay for the vehicle until the seller can provide the title. Without a negotiable title, you cannot title and register the vehicle in your name. A negotiable title is one that belongs to the vehicle being purchased. Check the make, model and compare the 17-digit Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) against the VIN on the car. And has been properly signed off by the seller. If the title is in more than one person's name (a husband and wife, or a co-signing parent, for instance), both may need to sign. If the title says, "John Doe and Jane Doe", both must sign off on the title. If the title lists "John Doe or Jane Doe," only one must sign. No notary is needed to sign off on a title. If a Utah title is lost, the buyer and the seller may fill out a Form TC-123, Application for a Duplicate Title. This document, properly completed, can then be used to register the vehicle in the purchaser's name. Federal and State law require that you furnish to the transferee a written odometer disclosure statement upon transfer of ownership. Failure to complete or providing a false statement may result in fines and/or imprisonment! Both the transferor and the transferee shall retain a legible copy of the odometer disclosure statement for not less than four years. So do not forget to complete a Form TC-891, Odometer Disclosure Statement filled out and signed by the owner and the buyer. If the title shows a lien holder, verify that the lien has been released. If the purchaser of the vehicle obtains a signed Bill of Sale from the seller of the vehicle, the amount of sales and/or use tax to be collected will be based upon the net purchase price shown on the Bill of Sale, if it contains the information described above. If the buyer did not obtain a signed Bill of Sale from the seller (or the Bill of Sale does not meet the requirements described above), the DMV will calculate the amount of sales or use tax based upon the "Fair Market Value". For more information go to Utah State Tax Commission - Utah Division of Motor Vehicles. The Utah Division of Motor Vehicles is a division of the Utah State Tax Commission. The primary duty of the Utah DMV is to issue title and registration for Utah vehicles, including passenger vehicles, trucks, trailers, motorcycles, motor homes, off-highway vehicles, boats, and snowmobiles. Utah laws do not require the parties of a private deal to complete and notarize a bill of sale template. Still, it's highly recommended to track the chain of the vehicle's ownership, identify the vehicle's condition and mileage at the time of sale, and determine its technical characteristics. Registering a Vehicle in Utah Those who purchase a vehicle in Utah need to register it to operate on Utah roads. If the purchase was made at the dealer's office, then the dealer should undertake all the registration hassle. Buying a vehicle in a private sale requires the new owner to come to a local UT DMV office and file the registration documents as follows: An odometer disclosure statement (TC-891) with the indication of the actual mileage of the vehicle at the moment of sale (required for all motor vehicles). A certificate of title signed over by the previous owner. A motor vehicle bill of sale. An active driver's license valid in Utah. A valid Utah car insurance Safety or smog test results (applicable in some Utah counties). Receipt of the paid $6 temporary permit fee allowing to operate the vehicle until the permanent registration and certificate of title are issued. Evidence of all fees and taxes paid to relevant state agencies. It's noteworthy that though the Utah DMV provides a special form for a bill of sale, it still should not be regarded as documentary evidence of ownership. The bill of sale should always be accompanied by a certificate of title. In such a case, the deal may be regarded as legally complete. All new owners of vehicles in Utah should pay the 7.25% tax calculated based on the vehicle's official price indicated in the bill of sale. Other fees associated with the motor vehicle's acquisition include a registration fee ($150 for cars under 3 years old, $110 for cars 3-6 years old, $90 - for vehicles 6-9 years old, $50 - for vehicles older than 9 years), a title fee ($6), and plate fees ($2.50).
